Price Refuses to Close Soap Works Pending Suit in County Court.

A writ of injunction to restrain the soap factory of E. Rayel on the G. H. & S. A. tracks between Entrella and Son Marcial, from operating while suit is pending in the county court against layer, was senied by judge P. R. Price in the star district court Saturday morning.

in the tlat district court Saturday nerring.

The suil grew out of action taken in the corporation court when adderman R. R. Stetens told Ravel, upon learning evidence in the case, that he could not operate the factory until the officialize ofors attendant upon the industry were removed and a building creeted that would make this possible.

Hade improvements.

Ravel made the necessary improvements, but the odor remained, the city claimed, and the case was again presented to the corporation court with judge Paul D. Thomas presiding, Judge Thomas informed coursel for Ravel that the factory could not be operated to the corporation court with judge Paul D. Thomas presiding, Judge Thomas informed coursel for Ravel that the factory could not be operated to the corporated would be fined 25s for severy time that a compizint was registored.

Jones & Jones, attorneys for Ravel, specialed the case to the county court and pending the trial of the case an effort was made to secure a writ of injunction.

The Eliminate Odors.

"We believe," and Mr. Ravel's attorneys, "that Mr. Ravel is operating a legitimate enterprise in an acknowledged factory district and that it is an injustice to ask that he shut down his plant. We shall act in accord with the decision of judge P. R. Price and the question of disagreeable odors will be eliminated at once for will the ladustry be closed down in the meanwhile.

while. "Neighbors who live near the soap works testified that there were no objectionable odors from the plant and this evidently had an effect upon the judge in deciding the case, as the city's injunction suit was filed upon complaint of the health department officials who claimed it was a menace cials who cinimed it was a menace and an objection to the residents of that vicinity."

Mr. W. F. Payne,
Agent, Maryhand Casualty Co.,
City,
Dear Sir: On June 23, 1915, we insured against burglary in the Maryland Casualty Company,
On the night of September 25th, our safe was blewn open and robbed of $11550.

On October 10th we received from you, Maryland Casualty Co. draft for full amount of claim, also B.L. covering a new and better safe shapped Ottober 11, from the factory and consigned to us.
This is not only a satisfactory, but an exceedingly prompt self-tensest, and we request that you consey our thanks to the Maryland Cacualty Company.
The writer winhes to mank you personally for your insistance in inducing him to insure, and frankly admits that at the time he had no idea that within three months he would receive a striking demonstration of the truth of your regiment.

Yours very sincerely,
